PROFILE

Swedish technologist, living in Germany and working internationally, looking to make life better for people and businesses using technology.

I have spent my professional career building systems for web and mobile. Lately as Product Manager for a Web CMS for news media with about $10M yearly revenue, but before and after that also as team lead and developer. I enjoy the possibility of mixing roles and I firmly believe that technology drives new business, just as new business drives technology.

For my next job, I am looking for a position of responsibility where I can leverage my expertise, develop as a leader or coach, but also explore and learn in new fields. It could be in roles such as project manager, team lead, architect, product manager or similar.

SKILL BASE

- Expertise in product management and product development
- Expertise in digital content management and enterprise-scale web development
- Expertise in the fields of online and social media, broadcasting and the news publishing industry
- Experienced in leading people and organising development work onshore and offshore
- Experienced in Scrum and agile development principles and practices
- Experienced in international sales and management level meetings
- Strong English writing and presentation skills
- Tech: Experienced in Java/JEE and modern web development and Internet technologies
Examples: Java, JavaScript, Node.js, HTML5/CSS3, Responsive Design, Cloud Services/SaaS, Git and SVN
- Office IT: MS Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Mac OSX, MS Windows and basic Unix/Linux admin

PROFESSIONAL CAREER

MANAGER PRODUCT GROWTH AND MARKETING, ATEX

September 2014 – Present

Responsible for introducing the Atex Web CMS into new markets and working with R&D to innovate in new product areas. Currently working together with a customer as Project Manager/Product Owner to develop an new Atex Content Recommendation service and looking at Split Testing for Content Management. Note: More hands-on role than the job title suggests.

Responsibilities: Project Management, Technical Sales, Key Account (developer level)

Keywords: Web CMS, Cloud Services, Prototyping (Java/Javascript) and Product Evangelism

DEVELOPMENT MANAGER, JACADA

November. 2013 – August 2014

On-site Development Manager for Jacada Professional Services in München. Worked on the implementation and extension of the Jacada Plattform at Kabel Deutschland. Jacada provides workflow optimisation and automation solutions for call center support agents.

Responsibilities: Teamlead and developer in two multi-year projects

Keywords: Java/JEE, Javascript, Sencha ExtJS, Spring and Webservices. Enterprise integration and the waterfall project methodology

VP OF PRODUCT MANAGEMENT, WEB CMS AT ATEX

February 2011 – October. 2014

Managing Web and Tablet Publishing products. Focus on vision, roadmap delivery and key customer relationships. Synthesising market and technology trends, customer requirements and the vision for the product into a roadmap and development plan. Working with five development teams on three continents (25 people across Sweden, Malaysia and India).

Responsibilities: Product Management, Product Lifecycle Management, Scrum Product Ownership, Working with partners and analysts (Gartner), Sales and Evangelism

Keywords: Web CMS, Content Management, Agile Development, On- and offshore development, product mindset

GLOBAL PRODUCT MANAGER, WEB CONTENT MANAGEMENT AT ATEX

June 2009 – February 2011

Responsible for all online publishing solutions in Atex, as part of the global product management group. Focus on coordination of roadmaps, product planning, and supporting Sales and Marketing at an international level. Atex has development centers on all continents except for South America.

Responsibilities: Product Management, Scrum Product Ownership, Innovation

Keywords: Web CMS, Content Management, Agile Development, Enterprise integration

PRODUCT MANAGER WEB CMS AT ATEX

April 2008 – June 2009

Primary focus on providing a seamless multi-channel editorial workflow for journalists and editors using the Atex print publishing products. Integration-heavy. The position was very much an extension of the previous role; Same responsibilities, but with a more pronounced international focus, both in terms of sales support as well as regarding coordination of development efforts.

PRODUCT MANAGER AT POLOPOLY AB

November 2007 – April 2008

As (technical) Product Manager, my main responsibility was the mid- to long-term product roadmap. I worked close to the development teams in a very technical role. Another important part of the work was the gathering of requirements and combining them to form a development plan. In this work I coordinated with the CTO, Product Development Manager and Sales and Marketing.

Meeting customers and supporting sales were integral parts of the role.

PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT MANAGER AT POLOPOLY AB

May 2003 – November 2007

Manager for the product development team. Planned the day-to-day development activities and managed the team. I also did developer interviews for new recruitment as well as appraisals and salary negotiations.

The position also included technical pre-sales and technical sales and marketing support.

JAVA CONSULTANT AND DEVELOPER AT POLOPOLY AB

March 2000 – May 2003

During this period, I worked as Java developer at Polopoly, with a special responsibility for the editorial web GUI. I also doubled as consultant and designed the early training material and held developer training.

JAVA CONSULTANT AND DEVELOPER AT FUTURNITURE

September 1998 – February 2000

Java web development for a number of clients. Mostly short projects (1 – 3 months). The position covered a broad spectrum of web projects, from WCMS enhancements for clients to the design and implementation of a Java Applet for three-dimensional navigation of hierarchical hyperlinked taxonomies.

JAVA DEVELOPER AT SPECTRAL

June 1997 – December 1997

Development of a Web CMS product targeted at medium sized businesses. My responsibility was to design and implement the authorization system; the part of the software that governs user access to resources in the system, typically group and user permissions to create and edit content.

JAVA DEVELOPER AT NETENTERTAINMENT

June 1996 – December 1996

At the time of my employment, Net Entertainment was a startup. My job, together with a colleague, was to create a proof-of-concept for an online casino product, including an SDK for adding new games (Slots, Poker, Black Jack, etc.). Two months were spent on-location in the Caribbean on the islands of St. Kitts and Nevis, working with local developers of a partner company, CaribFX.

To Whom it May Concern,

In my position as the Executive Director of professional services division in Europe and Asia, I was the direct line manager for Anders Weijnitz during his time with us at Jacada.

As Development Manager, Anders Weijnitz worked for one of our biggest clients in Europe, Kabel Deutschland/Vodafone. In this capacity Anders mainly worked on two parallel projects. In one as Java developer on the Jacada Workspace installation - A portal software running on Weblogic and Oracle, and in the second project he split the role of project manager and developer to complete the first phase of the installation of our desktop automation software, Jacada Integration and Automation (JIA).

In his role, Anders also coached a junior colleague with regards to software development best practices, focusing on test automation, javascript and Sencha MVC in particular. Handling and solving escalated support issues and coordinating with the customer and the operations team was also part of Anders' daily routine.

During his time at Jacada Anders displayed great commitment and high professional standards under sometimes difficult and stressful conditions. In addition to his good communication skills and professional experience in the field of Enterprise Java solutions, Anders good spirit and sense of humor were highly appreciated. During his time with us, Anders also displayed the ability to lead, prioritise and execute to get results on time. As such, I can highly recommend Anders for future positions such as Development Manager, Project Manager or Team Lead.

Anders has chosen to leave Jacada to explore new opportunities and we wish him the best of luck going forward. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me on the above Address.

Sincerely,

Ashok Dey
Executive Director, professional services EMEA

Job reference certificate

Polopoly is a manufacturer of software for content management, personalisation and publishing for advanced digital services. Customers view the web as business critical and are represented globally. Polopoly is part of Atex the leading supplier to the media industry with headquarters in London and more than 800 customers in 40 countries.

Anders Weijnitz (711226-3210) has been employed with Polopoly AB (publ) from March 1st 2000 and was then employed by Atex GmbH from July 1st 2011 until October 22nd 2013.

Anders was originally employed as a developer working with XML, Java, JSP and similar techniques in Polopoly product development. He quickly moved on to a role as a lead developer and later assumed responsibility for Polopoly product development.

Over time Anders also became part of sales initiatives and acted in a product manager role, working with tenders, demonstrations and presentations. He has been based in Stockholm, Sweden and Munich, Germany with Polopoly and Atex. During his employment in Germany Anders became a global product manager for Polopoly.

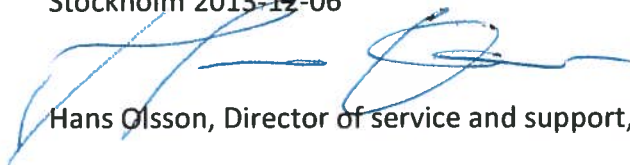

Anders has been highly productive and excelled in his roles as Product Manager, Global Product Manager and later VP of Product Management, Web CMS. He always brings a positive attitude and takes on his job with great energy and dedication.

In the Product Management role, Anders is able to manage the balance between understanding the market and the customer needs, while at the same time being able to drive the product vision and coordinating development to meet deadlines.

Through his deep technical knowledge and developer background, he can easily analyse complex business requirements and translate them into technical solutions to be discussed with the teams. That, together with the ability to set priorities and work closely with R&D to come up with innovative solutions, has been key factors to his success at Atex. He is talented in leading teams, managing project based work and has intimate knowledge of agile methodologies.

Anders has delivered on highly challenging assignments with great results and a professional approach. He has displayed a great sense for service, loyalty and excellent communication skills due to his multi-language abilities. Now that Anders, on his own initiative, is leaving Atex and Polopoly we wish him the best of luck and leave him highly recommended.
